This game is an exciting and splendid game that is entertaining and suspenseful, the order of which does not fail. There are no scenes that are boring, rather, various types of characters, music, and fantastic events are prepared for the users. The special points that it has are that the game's plot is extremely moving, and how it is implemented are extremely spectacular and exciting. The details of the game are great, and the order of events and characters are extremely interesting and beautiful, such that players can feel the soul of the game. Because of this, if you watch the game, you are going to feel an emotion. Personally, there are times where it is only you, but it is not that simple. Together with the other players, there is an asynchronous element where you can experience the emotions of others, and it is also very good. Hence, I recommend it to all players. In addition, the races are fantastic, and it is impossible for players to get tired of this game. It has many different scenes, so there is a vast range of choices. However, since it is a new title, the replay value is not very high, so I hope you will enjoy this game through new experience. The pieces of land once belonging to Zengland have been annexed to the Kingdom by expansionist raids. During a meeting of the Scathlania Royalty and officials, a plan of enlisting more goblin regiments was proposed. Back at his home, Yedia was informed of this, and was immediately suspicious. He asked for proof of said plan, but it is common for the King to simply call up a soldier and recruit them into his army without anything of the sort.
