[Game System] □CLASSES The game features three classes: Brutes, Wizards, and Knights. □CLASSES Brutes Brutes are defenders with the fundamental core of physical strength. They are the fastest and strongest among all classes, equipped with physical abilities that are almost stronger than those of Knights. Brutes are strong ◎ The Defensive Skills Brutes rely on their physical strength to prevent a retreat or to defend themselves from monsters, as they are the only class that can dodge and block. ◎ The Offensive Skills Brutes use heavy attacks that make them a formidable opponent to enemies. Their basic offensive abilities provide them an edge in battle against other classes. □CLASSES Wizards Wizards are defenders with the fundamental core of magic power. They are the most powerful among all classes, possessing a variety of magic attacks that are far stronger than those of Knights. Wizards are powerful

⊙ The Defensive Skills Wizards rely on spells to protect themselves from monsters and to provide strategic support. However, they are incapable of dealing strong damage and therefore do not have the ability to fight alone.

⊙ The Offensive Skills Wizards use powerful spells to create numerous powerful, devastating attacks. They use spells to attack the enemy with the same effect as a large amount of physical strength.

□ CLASSES Knights Knights are defenders with the fundamental core of great physical strength and supreme swordsmanship. They are the only class that can enhance their physical strength by improving the durability of their armor, a vital factor in battle. Knights are strong

The Defensive Skills Knights can deal tremendous damage by using their physical strength. However, it takes a great amount of time to level up, making them highly susceptible to damage. The Offensive Skills Knights use high-level offensive techniques based on evasion and special attacks and defensive techniques based on resistance. As they take a high amount of time to level up, they are able to make use of these techniques on the battlefield.

□CLASSES Combat System: Combat is based on a modified positional battle system using Blenheim's unique 3-D battle system.

Fighting is done as a free-flowing action.
