The first two chapters of Waking the Glares are about Dawnfall's quest of finding answers to mysteries. In the first chapter he's trying to find his father and in the second he wants to find out the book's secret, his father's final rest place. They both lead him to a strange universe where time moves differently and the most curious thing is that he finds himself traveling to other times. Visual and acoustic design: with each adventure, Dawnfall wakes the glares in his eyes and discovers new horizons. Every time is a new adventure, every time it's a new world. 3 different locations: Dawnfall travels through different timestreams to find a new environment. And it's not only a place - he also discovers its people. Each adventure will have different gameplay and challenges Stunning animation: each adventure is rendered in full 3D and animated with high-quality artworks The soundtrack is composed by me. It will be available in the game for free! Let's meet Waking the Glares I and II - Dawnfall: The ultimate adventure game that does not need an intro, you just start playing. The player has nothing more to do than to follow the story on its own and we want to make it as simple as possible. It only requires you to read the story, listen to the music, and to pay attention to the environments. We want players to get into the experience without thinking too much about how to play the game and enjoy the experience of a great story, amazing gameplay, high-quality 3D graphics and excellent music. This is the reason we are not charging to play the game even though it's a little more expensive than a typical Indie game. Oculus Rift support: Oculus Rift is an immersive headset that provides a completely new and exclusive way to experience games and as the first game to support Oculus Rift we wanted to make it possible for as many players as possible to enjoy the game. It is the only way to experience the game with the best image and sound and thanks to the right movements, we are able to simulate the experiences of immersion that the Oculus Rift provides. Each Chapter of Waking the Glares has a "soundtrack" that immerses the player in each adventure and you can play the game with your headphones. About The Book Written by Shon Charry: Waking the Glares is an adventure game

"The Christmas Massacre" is the fifth episode in Batman: The Animated Series first season. The story, written by story editor Arthur Béem and directed by Joe Dante, is set six months in the future and tells the story of how an overworked Batman encounters Catwoman, Poison Ivy, and Clayface as they attempt to kill all the people on earth and lay a trap for Batman before he can arrest them. The episode originally aired on The Fox Broadcasting Company on December 9, 1992. In 2015, IGN ranked "The Christmas Massacre" as the 35th greatest animated episode of all time. The episode was selected for the United States Library of Congress National Film Registry in 2017. Plot In a banquet hall on the sixth anniversary of the arrival of Batman into Gotham, Mayor Hamilton "Hammy" Grogan announces a contest called "The Million Dollar Death" which will award a million dollars to the person who captures Batman. In reality, the City has an assassin, Alfred Pennyworth, hired for the job but he is forced to retreat after crossing Batman in a bank robbery (Batman breaks his vow of retirement to stop the robbery). Meanwhile, in a mountainside lair on a remote island, the Titans - Nosferatu, the Penguin, Clayface, the Riddler, and the Joker - meet their secretive leader, Black Mask. They all discuss a plan to create a virus that, when injected into the human body, will bring any person to their knees in three days time. Black Mask himself will unlock a secret vault and take the antidote for himself. Later, in Gotham, Mayor Grogan reveals that private security guards wearing anti-virus suits, dubbed the "Batters", will capture Batman. In the Batcave, Alfred gets a call from Hammy, who demands that Batman come to the City Hall at once. Batman leaps to the Batmobile, which he uses to drive to the front of the building. On the way to the building, Batman confronts the Monocle, a mook for the mayor's guards, and he drives the Monocle into the lake in front of the building, convincing people that a madman is at large. As Bruce frees Tim, Dick, and Jason from the Batcave computer, Harvey announces that he is quitting as Batman but only after helping Batman capture the assassins, knowing that he will be no help. Lex Luther is given a call from Black Mask's warehouse number and is seduced into a trap: Noelle Win
